

ARIZONA DESERT - With Our Arms to the Sun will celebrate the upcoming release of its A Far Away Wonder with several shows on the West Coast later this month.

The progressive art rock band will make stops in the Pacific Northwest and Los Angeles area before headed back to their native Arizona to share the stage with Tool in front of more than 30,000 fans at the second day of Tempe's huge Monster Mash.

With Our Arms to the Sun recently signed with the upstart label Fade to Silence Records, which was founded by music industry veteran Paul Bibeau. The group's first release for the label was previously available as a self-release but will now be available worldwide in both CD and vinyl formats with expanded artwork on October 30.

These first few shows are a just a warm up for 2016, when the bands plans to hit the road hard and reach new cities across the county.

"We've done lots of DIY tours where we booked ourselves around the western parts of the United States," vocalist/guitarist Josh Breckenridge said. "Now that we are working with a booking agent, we have some other great support tours in the works and 2016 is going to be a big year."
